

Lorenzo Alzati

INTERNAL AUDIT DIRECTOR

Lorenzo Alzati, born in Turin in 1970, is Atlantia's Head of Internal Audit from 1 April 2020.

Having obtained a degree in Business and Economics, he began his career as an auditor at Arthur Andersen in 1997. In 2000, he joined Iveco, at that time a Fiat group company, to work in the business audit unit, before moving to Eni Servizi Amministrativi at the end of 2002, where he worked in planning and control. He then went on to hold the same role at Sofid, a financial intermediary regulated by the Bank of Italy, from April 2004 to October 2006, when he was appointed the company's Head of Internal Audit. In 2007, he joined Eni's Internal Audit department, where he was appointed to positions of increasing responsibility, first as head of auditing for the Financial and Administrative Services unit and then as head of auditing for Supply and Trading Processes, a position held until January 2017 when he was appointed Head of Internal Audit at Snam.
